This is Deja's 10 birthday picture. I rescued DejaVu in October of 2000 at the age of 2. I picked him up in PA and took him to his first Halloween parade on our way home; he didn't like it too much so we left. He was in good health when I adopted him, but later in the years he did get Lyme Disease which he soon recovered and is very healthy to this day. Two years ago we bought a puggle and Deja took to him like it was his little baby. For being such a big dogue, he is a little baby when it comes time for his shots and cries when he gets them, it's so funny. He also hates thunderstorms, he starts panting hours before it even arrives, and I call him our little weather man, the only difference between him and a weather man is that Deja is always right. I can't express how happy I am that I brought him into our home, out of all the dogs that I have owned in my life, I have to say Deja has been the best, well behaved, playful (still to this day) and just always there waiting for us to get home. I really don't know what I would do without him. Deja also has a brother on this page Diggum. Congrats to him too and all the dogues that are still with us.
